Hi everyone,

Here are the files we needed you to review, these are now 508 compliant PDFs ready for posting. Based on Kathleen's email below, I will need someone (who owns the source files) to make the necessary updates and send me the updated word file and new PDF. Apologies for this extra step, but I want to ensure we are working to post the most current version.

Thanks again for your assistance with the preparation of these files and the IRIS web site.

Maureen- thanks for the clarification. I've attached a few edits for the Executive Summary in track changes. (Sorry. I didn't realize you were waiting on me for anything!)

One of my edits pertains to the contractors suggestion in bullet 4. I have added the Kroese et al citation, but unfortunately, in the process I appear to have broken the HERO links. Maybe the contractor can figure this out.

My other responses are below in red.

Thanks!

-Kathleen

Thanks Maureen, I will look into the comments from the contractor. I think they are mistaken on the last two points, but I will confirm and write back. For now I would recommend they keep the text as is.

Also, can someone tell me what the "EC" is referring to in the second bullet?

Hi folks,

Here is the staging site for the BaP chemical landing page. Included with the link I have left some comments from my contractors (and my responses). Let me know if you have any questions. Cheers, Maureen
